Gas Measured by a Balloou. Mr. Samuel A. King, the well known Bos ton æronaut, was recently employed upon a novel commission, that of measuring with balloons the discharge from a gas well in Ontario county, New York. The well is owned by a company of capitalists, and the gas is conveyed in pipes to Rochester, twenv-six roiles distant, and there mixed with he street or illuminating gas. The flowage | week and carry off the same. reached only 25,000 feet a day, when the capacity was estimated at 800,000. With two balloons, one of 20,000 cubic feet, and the other of 13,000, the exact capacity of which was previously ascertained to a nicety (says the Boston Journal), Mr. King measured the flow for a certain period, and the result showed that the flow was about 4,000 feet per our. Much of the gas is thought to escape by leakage from the pipes between Bloomfield and Rochester. In accordance with Mr. King's suggestions, the company propose to perfect the present drill hole and sink another near the first. The gas was discovered many years since, while parties were tools were driven out. This is just the thing for the Newton gas well. The services of Professor King and his balloon would cost comparatively little to accurately ascertain how much gas went in at the pipe at the mouth of the well, and how much came out at this end; also how much could be relied upon for a steady flow. It is highly probable that the gas from this well may last many years, and bring in a fortune to its owners. It is stated that the gas contains impurities of sulphur and earbonic acid, which destroys its illuminating properties. Both of these substances can be got rid of by passing it through the ordinary purifying apparatus | Shore road was doing some car coupling at of coal gas works. With such an immense Reno, Wm. There was a peculiar fitness in the selec-tion of Joshua Douglas as Chairman of the Our readers are probably aware that Fleishman, the interpreter on the trial, has refused to give to the public or the press the confession of Charles Marlow, which he took in German, on Thursday night and Friday morning-the morning of the execution. But in the hearing of the words was Gus. Kress, of Dunkirk, who is well and favorably known to the people of that town, and who speaks and nuderstands both German and English fluently. From this gentleman we get the following confession of Marlow as given to Fleishman. We do not hesitate in stating, from our knowledge of the two gentlemen, that Mr. Kress is far better prepared to translate the words of Marlow than Fleishman himself. Liberal County Committee, for he cannot be called a "sorehead," although people with good memories may recollect the time when be was beaten for President Judge on the Republican ticket in this county after he had received the party nomination, though our majority was upwards of a thousand. Mr. F. Moulthrop, Democratic candidate for Assembly, was then a Republican, but he worked and voted against Mr. Douglas, while both Messrs. Oliver and Bates, Republican candidates for Assembly in opposition to Moulthrop, were active workers for the suc-cess of Mr. Douglas, and did no little to reduce the majority by which he was beaten. The Christian spirit which impels Mr. Douglass to take off his coat and work for the success of Mr. Moulthrop cannot be too nighly commended, and the idea might be made the subject of a neat little Liberal campaign tract.—Connegutville Record and
